

Copyright and Fair Dealing for Teachers

The Supreme Court of Canada interprets the fair dealing provision of the Copyright Act as permitting teachers to copy “short excerpts” of copyright-protected works for their students if the use is for educational purposes and it is “fair.”

A short excerpt includes:

a single article from a periodical up to 10 per cent of a copyright-protected work

an entire newspaper article or page

an entire single poem or musical score from a copyright-protected work containing other poems or musical scores an entire entry from an encyclopedia, annotated bibliography, dictionary, or similar reference work an entire artistic work from a copyright-protected work containing other artistic works

one chapter from a book

Copying consumables is not “FAIR”

Copying, scanning, or printing materials intended for one-time use is strictly prohibited.

Questions about copyright and fair dealing

It takes 30 seconds to find the answers with CopyrightDecisionTool.ca.

CopyrightDecisionTool.ca

TEACHERS AND
COPYRIGHT
CopyrightDecisionTool.ca

