

Using Simple Machines to Build Devices that Move Choice Board Rubric

	Excellent	Proficient	Adequate	Limited
Demonstrating understanding of how to use simple machines to build devices that move	My responses to the choice board are proof that I have an excellent understanding of simple machines. My responses demonstrate a superior understanding of how to design and build devices that move.	My responses to the choice board are proof that I have a good understanding of simple machines. My responses demonstrate a good understanding of how to design and build devices that move.	My responses to the choice board are proof that I have a reasonable understanding of simple machines. My responses demonstrate a reasonable understanding of how to design and build devices that move.	My responses to the choice board are proof that I have a limited understanding of simple machines. My responses demonstrate a poor understanding of how to design and build devices that move.