

Unit 3

Name: _____

Date: _____

Reader's Notebook: Satellites

It's been said, "A picture is worth a thousand words".

Can a picture communicate more than a few sentences would? As you look at the "Horseshoe Falls with crowd" and "Earth Rise" images, think about the information communicated from each picture. Does each picture communicate more than a written account?

Below, write about what each picture communicates to you and to what degree the picture helps you understand the picture subject more.

Image

Explanation

Image One:

Horseshoe Falls with crowd

Image Two:

Earth Rise

How can images from space help us see our planet in new ways?

Before watching "Satellites"

After watching "Satellites"
