1. What have you learned so far about connections to the past?
  - Think about the historical reports you have read and the object you shared in the lesson Lost and Found.
2. What have you learned about searching for information about historical events or historical figures?

When completing the W: What I Want to Know section of the chart, ask yourself these questions:

1. What questions do you have regarding our country's past?
2. What parts of your past or your family's history are you interested in learning more or are interested in sharing with others?
3. Do you wonder if there are different versions of history depending on whose point of view is being expressed?

Leave the last section, L: What You Have Learned, blank for now. You will complete it at the end of the unit.
