Dear Rose,

It's March 9, 2011, and I'm in grade 10. I work at the restaurant most evenings and weekends, so I don't go out much. I use my cell to text my friends after school. Which is good.

This semester I'm taking English, Social, PE and Home Ec. English and Social are not too bad, but the writing is challenge for me. Will I ever be a good writer??? I'm sure Phys Ed will always torture me, but I love cooking in Home Ec.

I'm still into Manga... just reading Alice in the Country of Hearts now. Is Manga still popular in the future? I like how comics are becoming movies. I hope that keeps happening.

It's hard to say what I want to be in the future. I work so much I don't have time to think about next week. I can not even imagine 5 years from now. I think I would like a job that would let me travel, but if I get married and have a family, that might be hard too. We'll have to see what happens...

Thanks for listening,

Rose
