

APOSTROPHE

Apostrophe means speaking to someone absent or to something non-human as if it were present, alive, and able to respond.

“Fierce-throated beauty!...
Thy madly-laughter, echoing,
Rumbling like an earthquake, rousing all.”
“To a Locomotive in Winter”
- Walt Whitman

