

Final Assignment Part 1

Your final assignment is going to be a study of a chronic condition. It can be one from the Class Wiki or any other chronic condition that is not cancer. It has been broken down into manageable steps. This assignment must be done in order to access the final assignment.

Place your answers in the boxes where the blue answer here is.

What condition do you want to research?	Answer here
---	-----------------------------

There are a number of formats that your final submission could take. Some suggestions are PowerPoint, report, or poster.

At this point, what format do you think you will do your final assignment in?  You are allowed to change your mind, but having an idea of the direction you would like to go is helpful when beginning the research process.	Answer here
--	-----------------------------

Step One is to review what you already know about your chosen condition. Fill out the I Know portion of the chart below.

Step Two is to organize What I Still Need to Know. You will need to do some research in this step. Review the ADLC Plagiarism Policy in the course introduction and provide your sources for any information.

Some questions to guide your research are:

- How common is this condition?
- What are the signs and symptoms of this condition?
- What are the factors that increase the risk of developing this condition?
- Is this condition becoming more common, less common, or staying the same?

Step Three is to complete the I Have Learned section of the chart.

Suggested wording:

This formative assessment is "marked" out of 5; your mark out of 5 represents the following:

- 5—excellent
- 4—proficient
- 3—basic
- 2—developing
- 1—underdeveloped

It is expected that you will download and review all of the files provided for formative assessments and that you will read, consider, and apply the suggestions to the Final Assignment in Unit 3.
