

Sample Outline-Analyze Characteristics of Nationalism

Feel free to use the sample outline below to plan out your Analyze Characteristics written response. Remember that this is a rough outline, and you can respond in point form.

The final draft of the Analyze Characteristics written response should be in paragraphs and edited for errors prior to being submitted.

Outline for the Analyze Characteristics Written Response

1. Read and review the provided terms in the assignment, and the central question. Remember, the central question will typically be written as, “Which aspect(s) of _____ are most important to...?” or “Which characteristic(s) of _____ are most important to...?”

Which aspect(s) of national interest do you think the Canadian government should pursue?

Write a response in which you must

- identify the aspect(s) of national interest that is/are the most important to the Canadian Government
- explain why the aspect(s) is/are the most important
- support your response using your understanding of social studies

Ex.

PLAN:

What is the central question? Write it here:

Rewrite the central question in your own words:

Choose at least 2 terms to explore:

2. Explain each term/vocabulary/concept according to the question’s focus. Why is the term the “most important” and to what?

PLAN:

Term 1:

Definition and Importance:

Examples:

Term 2:

Definition and Importance:

Examples:

Term 3:

Definition and Importance:

Examples:

3. Restate and explain your position on the central question-what do YOU believe is the “most important... ” and for what reasons?

PLAN:

My position on the central question is:

Supporting Reasons/Arguments:

Remember, this is a rough outline for the Analyzing Characteristics written response. Review the expectations and exemplars for the Analyzing Characteristics written response within your course.